

Naval Vote To Be Test For Harding

Insurgents Determined to Cut $15,000,000 From Naval Pay Appropriation.
HARDING TALK DISTORTED?
Lenroot Declares Big Navy
Supporters Twisted President's Speech.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The test of the strength of the insurgent movement in the senate against administration leadership on appropriation bills will come when the senate votes on the naval committee amendment increasing the pay of the navy $15,000,000.
This means an increase in the personnel of the navy by 20,000 men over the house provisions. The house set the navy strength at 100,000. The senate naval committee made it 120,- 000 by boosting the pay item.

The insurgents, greatly encouraged by the "moral" victory won in reducing the transportation item $1,000,000, knocking out entirely the $1,500,000 Alameda naval base provision and virtually forcing the Borah disarmament provision into the bill over presidential objections, are out to slash the pay appropriation.
They realize, insurgent leaders said, that it would be difficult to beat the committee. If they can, they will not only save the $15,000,000 involvement but will clinch their psychological triumph, they feel.

Says Speech Distorted
An intentional distortion of President Harding's New York address by persons favoring a big army and a big navy was charged in a speech to the senate by Senator Lenroot.

Lenroot quoted from a Washington newspaper a statement that Harding said he wanted an America so powerful that no nation would dare provoke his wrath. Then quoting from the text of Harding's speech, Lenroot showed that what Harding said was that he wanted a nation so powerful "in righteousness" that no other nation would dare provoke its wrath.

Senator Hale, Maine, called Len-root's attention to the fact that in an account of the speech, containing the text and sent out by a press association other than the United Press, the words "in right righteousness" were omitted although they appeared in the authorized text.

Senator Walsh, Montana, pointed out that in a New York newspaper a similar attempt to interpret Harding's speech as favoring a huge military establishment was made.

"Somebody," said Lenroot, "is deliberately trying to create the impression that the president is in favor of adopting the same sort of military policy as Germany adopted, whereas,
exactly the opposite is true."

Lenroot then swung into an attack on the senate naval committee charging that it accepted the dictation of the navy department as to the number of men needed for the navy, the amount of money to be appropriated and matters of policy.

U. S. IS NEARING AGREEMENTS WITH JAPAN AND MEXICO

Negotiations Have Reached
Critical Point and Extreme Caution Is Urged.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.)
Washington.—Two delicate situations in international affairs involving future relations between the United States and Mexico on the one hand and the United States and Japan on the other, have progressed to the vital point where the department of state hopes that the three countries will be avoided so that a satisfactory settlement can be reached.

Optimism as to the clearing up of the two disputes is plainly reflected here but the job ahead of Secretary Hughes in negotiating with the Obregon government on the question of recognition is one of which the Wilson administration was able to make little headway. This was not because of the way the thing was handled for the Harding regime has asked for practically the same thing from Mexico,
but because the Mexican authorities believed they could get better terms from the Republicans than the Democrats.

Mexico is playing a careful game—
No pressure has been exerted to obtain recognition from the United States, no outward effort has been made that could be denounced by the anti-American elements in Mexico as an attempt to curry favor with the United States.
On the other hand, President Obregon needs the recognition of the United States because it means recognition by the other governments of the world.
It means economic stimulus and a funding of Mexico's external and internal debt through foreign loans.

Nearing Agreement
As for the Japanese, Japan over the island of Yap matters are moving along satisfactorily for our government. The Japanese have by no means closed the door against discussion, indeed they have not assumed a definite position. The negotiations have been carried on informally and orally so that as soon as an agreement is reached it may be reduced to writing without the necessity of a prolonged period of note-writing. The Yap question is before the supreme council but if the United States and Japan could reach a direct agreement it would be far more satisfactory to Japan than to be in the position of being required to obey a request from the supreme council to give back something previously awarded her. The way out, of course, is an agreement to internationalize the island of Yap so that it doesn't belong either to the United States or Japan but to all the powers equally and governed by an international commission which would safeguard all interests.

"I guess I have been on the bench

Michael Healy, one of the three, presented citation for bravery for carrying ammunition to front line

The judge gave the three men a obtain a job for each of them after they served their sentence—if they

Allies Want America In Mandate Discussion

MAKE IT EASY FOR MEXICO TO OBTAIN
U. S. RECOGNITION

Last Stumbling Block Is Removed in American Note to Obregon.

Washington, D. C.—The last obstacle to American recognition of the present Mexican government has been removed, it was believed here Tuesday.

The United States has been insistent that any recognition must hinge upon definite assurances that American lives and property in Mexico would be adequately protected.

President Obregon has been equally insistent that he cannot sign a set of written guarantees because of the impression of coercion that would result in his country.

The communication from Secretary
Hughes which George T. Summerlin, charge d'affaires, is bearing to Mexico City, however, were authoritatively stated Tuesday to contain merely the suggestion that certain steps should be taken by the Mexican government preliminary to recognition. These may be adopted by Mexico without any written promise.

Foremost among these stipulations is that Mexico shall give a nonretroactive interpretation to Article 27 of the Carranza constitution which provided for government ownership of all subsurface so as to eliminate possible confiscation of American property.

Further, it is suggested that steps shall be taken for a speedy settlement of the large claims of American citizens for losses suffered through Mexican revolutions.

The note declared that the United States is anxious to recognize the Mexican government—under the conditions stipulated. It was stated that if Obregon makes a satisfactory answer, recognition probably will be extended almost immediately.

SENATOR FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO HELP OUT DANIEL CUPID

Wisconsin Lawmakers Unable

on Taxing Dogs.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—Senator Claire E. Bird wanted to help women over 35 years of age to wed and had no thought of ridiculing them when he amended the Anderson bill changing the marriage laws of the state, according to a communication read in the assembly Tuesday.

Governor Blaine in vetoing the bill last week reckoned the amendment offered by Bird was the act of a practical trying to poke fun at the old maids.

Senator Bird said in his letter to the assembly he meant every word he said and it wasn't any joke either.
The letter was read, placed on record and then the bill was killed by a vote of 53-10.

The assembly concurred in the senate amendment to the Hanson bill calling for the interpretation and recall of all appointive state officers and the measure now goes to the governor for approval.

The assembly and senate are in disagreement over the dog tax law and a committee on conference has been named to iron out the problems. The senate wants dogs and wolves classed together and the assembly believes dogs don't occupy the low plane enjoyed by wolves.

The divisions of market trade commission bill, which permits state investigation and control of practically all lines of business in the state was engrossed by the assembly without debate or roll call.

Funds will be available for use in connection with the city of Wisconsin hospital, according to indications Tuesday when a bill to that effect was engrossed by the assembly.

The Meisling bill prohibiting doctors from charging more than $1 for liquor prescriptions was finally passed by the assembly and now goes to the senate for concurrence.

The senate Tuesday passed the Arnold inheritance tax boosting bill without debate. The bill will increase the state revenues $730,000 annually by doubling the existing rates.

WHITE MAN WHIPPED
FOR INSULTING GIRL
By United Press Leased Wire
Dallas, Texas.—The south early Tuesday avenged an alleged insult to a 12-year-old white girl.

John T. Moore, white, 30, and well dressed, was taken to a secluded spot in the county by ten masked men, given 25 lashes with a blacksnake and dumped from an auto in the heart of the city.

Moore was arrested on the charge of enticing the girl to come to his hotel room and was seized by the mob
when he was released on bond.

More was said to have admitted that the girl was in his room but stated that nothing improper had taken place.

ULSTER ELECTION RESULTS IN RIOTS

By United Press Leased Wire
Dublin.—Nineteen police and thirty Sinn Feiners battled for five hours near Newport, county Mayo, it was announced at Dublin castle.

The Sinn Feiners were driven off when police reinforcements outflanked them. One constable was killed and a district inspector was wounded.
Several republicans were wounded.

Belfast.—Seventeen voters were stabbed and beaten here Tuesday in election day riots.

The riots broke out in the Ballymacarett shipyard district, filled with labor agitators and Sinn Fein sympathizers.

Despite the police and military guards about a Saunders street booth,
the anti-Unionists taunted the voters who approached the place.

From stone throwing, the disturbance grew into a hand-to-hand conflict in which clubs and knives were freely used.

Ulster, long the opponent of home rule, went to the polls to elect its parliament. Policemen and soldiers were stationed at every polling place to prevent disorder.

Eamonn De Valera, Sinn Fein candidate for the northern parliament, in a final appeal, said "Vote to end boycott, retaliation, partition and dominion rule."

There was sporadic rioting during the night as the campaign came to a close.

LOPISIC, Germany.—The first of Germany's war criminals to be tried has convicted himself, it was believed here Tuesday.

It was predicted that Sergeant Hin-en, first of the "little list" to be tried,
would be sentenced to not less than two years imprisonment for brutal treatment of war prisoners.

Hinen, according to the British view was given every chance to offer favorable testimony but turned the court against him by childish explanations.

Eight British soldiers who were prisoners under Hinen's charge, and sixteen Germans were witnesses in the Hinen case. Hinen, the witnesses said, beat them with his fists or with his rifle butt, jabbed them with the bayonet and practiced other cruelties.

FILIPINO SCHOOL IS OBJECT LESSON TO U. S. THEORISTS

Splendid Manner in Which School Is Conducted Proves Filipinos' Ability.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL
Copyright, 1921, by the Post Pub. Co.
Manila.—If you care to know what this Philippine problem really is, the length and breadth and seriousness of it, and the fact that it cannot be sidestepped much longer, there is a place out here about ninety miles north of Manila, where a thing is going on a thousand times more illuminating than a boat load of arguments.

It is a school. The name of it is the Central Luzon Agricultural school and the name of the place is Munoz.
The world does not know it, but at present but I imagine it is likely to become better acquainted with both.

Munoz is about twenty miles beyond the present end of the railroad line, in the midst of a region that a few years ago was forest and jungle, traversed chiefly by bandits from the mountains. Today it is all cleared, occupied by homesteaders and booming with rice and things.

The school is part of the educational system of the Philippine islands, which has had the wonderful attention and profitable regard of thoughtful educators everywhere.

There are 800 students coming from twenty-eight provinces in these Philippine islands.

I put that fact by itself with the hope to emphasize it: 800 students, twenty-eight provinces and everything
there is going in the way of island tribe: Ilocanos, Igorrotes, Ifugoes, Moros, Bogobos, Ibal Moros, seaside
Moros, Visayans, northerners, southerners, sons of fierce old hill datus, sons of gentlemen that used to record in notes on their cross handles the growing number of their slain, everything you can think of that has a light brown color and a thick black thatch.

But having all these diverse, and according to eminent authority, impossible and irreconcilable elements thrown in together, please note that this school practically runs itself and on the broadest lines of actual democracy.

Upsets of Theory
I know it ought not to do this, but it does. It is the most astonishing thing in the Philippines and outrageously subversive of all theory. According to theory these representatives of 28 provinces and 44 varieties of tribe ought to be throwing the bolo into one another. The truth is they live together, work together and achieve together in the utmost harmony. According to theory, they belong Orientals and Malays, and all that, they should be incapable of doing anything except under the whip and curd-les of the white man. The truth is they proceed under a system of their

Stormy Scenes When Briand Declares Germans Have Shown Good Faith.

EBERT CLOSING FRONTIER
German President Threatens Punishment for Helping Silesians.

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—Premier Briand of France, was jeered and booed in the chamber Tuesday when he declared that Germany had shown good faith in meeting allied demands.

The scene in the chamber was one of the stormiest in its history.
Briand, his voice drowned in wave after wave of jeering shouts, stood his ground and declared "France will go no further except under imperious necessity."

Pursuant to an agreement with leaders of the chamber, questions of Briand's foreign policy were deferred to permit a discussion of the Silesian situation.

As Briand began talking, outlining his Silesian policy, there were continuous motions among the members which increased in violence. The premier paused several times for the excitement to subside.

He informed the chamber that Germany had sent a new note proposing to close her Silesian frontier and to declare a state of siege if necessary to enforce the order. As Briand proceeded and it became apparent that he was satisfied with the German action, the impatience of the members became increasingly vocal.

"There was a chorus of boos and catcalls. Many members rose gesticulating. There was confusion in the aisles.

French Demand Action
"France will go no further except under imperious necessity," Briand shouted when he could make himself heard.

With fists clenched and hair disheveled, he continued speaking although for the most part his words were obliterated by the babel coming from the floor.

Amid the jeers and shouts could be heard such phrases as:
"When do we occupy the Ruhr?"
"When will you put your hand to Germany's throat?"

As the noise subsided, Briand, his voice hoarse from the strain, declared that Premier Lloyd George's speech on the Silesian situation—which caused such bitter comment in France—had been misinterpreted in this country.

There was another outburst of defiance.
"There is nothing in the present situation to warrant the belief that the entente is endangered," Briand asserted vigorously.

"We have surmounted more serious crises."
The men started an uproar.
"What did you order mobilization?"
demanded several voices from the left.

Renewed jeers greeted Briand's attempt to reply.

Demand Ruhr Occupation
A resolution calling for immediate French occupation of the Ruhr valley was prepared for the chamber Tuesday.

Deputy Gall announced that he would present the resolution as proxy for Germany's failure to prevent volunteers from entering Upper Silesia.

Gall's resolution was expected to result in full discussion of recent correspondence between Germany and France. The latter twice warned the Berlin government that penalties will be exacted if German volunteers are not prevented from entering Silesia.

Frontier Is Closed
Berlin, Germany Tuesday closed
the Silesian frontier.

President Ebert in a proclamation declared the government will punish severely any volunteer organization attempting to cross into Silesia.

Extra troops were ordered to the border as a patrol to prevent volunteers from crossing the line.

WOMAN SAVED FROM DEATH IN RIVER

Mrs. Mary Morrow Wades Into Stream But Is Rescued by Two Men.

Mrs. Mary Morrow, 64, was saved from death in the Fox river about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning when Louis Orphal, 855 Madison-st., and Benjamin Marx, 638 State-st., took her out of the water near the foot of Cherry-st. The aged woman had waded into knee depth and was with in a few feet of the swift current.

Police officers were summoned and Mrs. Morrow was taken to the home of her son, William Morrow, 413 Cherry-st., where she had been staying. She appeared none the worse for her experience.

Orphal and Marx were walking on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway bridge, and were after a bucket of water. They saw a white but thought nothing of it. Descending from the bridge, they saw Mrs. Morrow wading toward the middle of the river. The men hastily waded in after her and brought her back to the bank, where they cared for her until the police conveyance arrived.

It is believed that the aged lady's mind became temporarily unbalanced and she did not realize what she was doing.

GIGANTIC HAIL PLAYS HAVOC AROUND WAUSAU

Wausau — Damage estimated to run into thousands of dollars was done here Sunday night when a hail storm swept over this city. The storm extended about three miles with Wausau as the center. The hailstones were as big as golf balls. Reports from Stevens Point said that small damage was done there by the storm.

The storm lasted for about fifteen minutes and broke many windows in downtown buildings and in private homes. Two greenhouses were damaged to the extent of $5,000. Street cars received minor damage to windows, as did automobiles. The ornamental lighting system was damaged, rendering the city in half darkness. A large clock on the First National Bank building was put out of commission by the storm. Several persons were cut by flying glass.

The storm is said to have been one of the worst that has ever visited this city.

The annual banquet of Athena literary society will be held at 6:30 Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A.

METHUSALEM CLUB POSTPONES GAME

Veteran Volleyballers Getting Primed for Game With Fond du Lac.

Due to the inability of the Appleton "Over 60 club" to get together Monday, the volleyball games scheduled between the club and the Fond du Lac "Old Timers" in that city have been postponed. It is probable that the club will invade Fond du Lac some night this week and return with the mug which the Fondy "Old Timers" took home with them on their trip to Appleton.

The next meet is to be the deciding one and will decide whether the mug becomes the permanent possession of the Old Timers' or come back to Appleton. In the first game between the two clubs, which probably was the first match ever staged in this section between clubs of similar ages, the Fondy men took two out of three games, and in the second match held in this city Fond du Lac managed to win only one match, hence the third match. The Rev. W. P. Leek of the Fondy "Vets" has been ill for several days and his condition will not permit his playing with the team. Another "over fifty" has been assigned this place.

L. E. Sugerman left for Chicago Tuesday on a several days' business trip.

Mrs. Joseph Rossmel has returned from a several days' trip to Madison and Prairie du Chien, where she visited her son Carl and daughters Della and Clara. Her son Carl returned home from Madison with her.

Not a flat work mangle—but an ironer which will do every bit of your ironing. Shirts, dresses, lingerie, collars and cuffs, ruffled and pleated articles—every single piece. All without the least bit of effort and work on your part. You will be delighted with the gloss the table cloths receive and with the appearance and neatness of the shirts.

EASY TO OPERATE

It is the easiest and most convenient ironer to operate. You do not push or pull hand levers or grope around for foot pedals. A touch of one finger on a small dial throws the motor into gear and it does all the work for you. You start and stop the ironer, open and close the shoe, and change the speed of the roll all as easily as turning on an electric light.

own and work under their own foremen. According to theory they can draw the breath of life only under some form of autocracy. The truth is they govern themselves.

Also, the truth is, they show daily that they have initiative, the very thing that theory is surest they cannot possibly have.

The chief source of authority at this school is the general assembly of which all the students are members. It meets once a week but may be summoned at any time. The students from each province constitute a political unit in the little republic. Each unit elects by ballot a delegate to the council, which is the legislative and directing power. The general assembly elects from its own body the student president and student vice president. These are the executive power.

Order is maintained by a student police force headed by a student police chief. Offenders are brought before a court composed of a student judge and his student associates, a trial is had and discipline is administered according to the judgment of the court. Punishments range from a reprimand to expulsion, and include suspension, fines and confinement in a guard house.

Disputes between the students may be settled before the same tribunal, but it is the business of the judges to bring the disputants to an understanding without a trial, if that may be possible.

The students till the soil, both for the communal profit and use of the school and individually on separate tracts, each for his own account. They conduct, on the cooperative plan, a general store, a printing office, a students' newspaper, a photographing establishment, a saw mill, a blacksmith shop, a wood-working shop, a post and telegraph office, all with student labor.

Self Supporting School

They do business in these enterprises with the settlers and farmers in the region round about as well as with their fellow students.

Because of these operations and of their successful farming, the school, having only a tuition fee so small it is almost indiscernible, for it is, in fact only a charge for athletics, is practically self-sustaining. Its appropriation from the government last year was only $10,000 a record that so far as I know is unequalled.

The student body works in two divisions. The first begins the day with the bugle at seven, has an hour's military training and puts in the rest of the morning in class room work. The afternoon it spends in the field and the shops under instructors. The second division spends its mornings in fields and shops and its afternoons in the class rooms. The course is four years. It includes science, mathematics and language but all directed toward use in practical farming.

If the institution had the room it would have three times as many students as it has now, for it is always turning down applicants. Some of the student come from regions so remote that to reach Munoz they must spend two weeks or more in travel. The fathers of some of them sell their very carabao and go on starvation rations to get the means to defray their sons' traveling expenses to the school. I think they would coin their hearts for that purpose.

Each student has an account at the students bank, the student president of which, by the way, is an able young Moro from Sulu. On this account the student is credited with the crops he raises and the work he does and charged with the supplies he draws from the store. Almost every student leaves the school with an accumulated surplus and some with capital enough to start farms of their own.

The inspiration for all this, the guiding genius, the man with the vision, is a modest young American named Kilmer E. Moe. I think he could make a success of anything, but he chose to go into the woods and make a success of this. The school is only about 13 years old. It started in the wilderness with 20 students and the forest was so dense and the task so appalling the first boys ran away. So did the second twenty. They don't run away now; they stay and demonstrate the character of their people and the eternal truth of democracy. Dr. Moe has a talented staff of American teachers, but the students supply the government.

Particular attention might probably be centered on these facts:

All Learn English

Instruction is all in the American language. The 800 students must not only speak American but understand it. They play baseball in it.

They seem to have forgotten all about their tribes; all their self-consciousness is Filipino.

They are serious, intelligent, industrious and almost always ambitious. They are boys but there is no fooling, sky-larking, horse-playing among them and not a trace of rowdiness. How about that?

On my arrival I found a delegation of the graduating class engaged in building a monument on the campus that the class will leave as its memorial.

DR. I. B. WOOD TO LEAVE HERE FOR NEW FIELD

Pastor of First Methodist Church Will Go to Corvallis, Oregon.

Dr. I. B. Wood Monday night offered his resignation as pastor of First Methodist church to accept a call to Corvallis, Ore., where a much larger opportunity for service is offered. Dr. Wood expects to leave here about July 1 after which the local pulpit will be supplied until the Methodist conference which opens Sept. 5 in Sheboygan.

The resignation came as a surprise to the Methodist congregation as it was not known that he was contemplating removal from Appleton. The congregation at Corvallis had several men under consideration and selected Dr. Wood because of his experience in building churches. The call arrived here Saturday night and was accepted.

Dr. Wood is serving his third year as pastor of the local church, coming here from Rochester, Minn.

Corvallis is not a large city but it offers an unusual opportunity for service because it is the site of a large state agricultural school with an enrollment of between four and five thousand students and it also is the site of a government military school. The Methodist church occupies a commanding position in work among the students.

Because of the unusual opportunity offered there the Methodist centenary board has appropriated $25,000 from rial to the school. Their own idea, their own design; a monument about twelve feet high, a figure on a pedestal. What kind of a figure? Why, a figure typical of the first settlers who went into this region, a celebration of the early pioneer. Their own idea and exceedingly well done by one of their own number, who has talent for sculpture. Their own idea, the sons of datus, Moros, Igorrotes, so-called wild men; a farmer sculptor, 20 years old, putting up public monuments. Can you beat it?

Next, one and all, irrespective of origin, they are fired with a passion to Philippine independence. Nobody ever teaches them independence; at the school the slightest reference to any political or religious issue is strictly taboo. They come with the fire in them, it is blown upon by contact with others of their people; they go away to be leaders in every part of these islands more than ever determined to be free and knowing how freedom is to be used.

I should think there might be considerable food for speculation in this combination of facts.

YOUNG MAN WALKS HERE FROM ARIZONA

John McCullen, 25, whose home was once Nevada and probably will be Milwaukee from now on will tell anybody who wants to take a long trip how to "beat the railroads." McCullen was plodding along the road to Kaukauna Monday and hailed an Appleton autist, asking for a "lift."

Taking the youth into his machine the autist engaged him in conversation. McCullen said he had worked on a ranch in Nevada where 20,000 head of cattle were kept. The market for beef and hides hit the bottom, leaving the ranch owner bankrupt. Obligated to seek work elsewhere, McCullen decided to find his relatives in Green Bay and Milwaukee. He had no money so started out to walk. The young man has been on his journey about a month and has been helped frequently by autists. He believes he has walked several hundred miles at times when he couldn't catch a ride.

His fund toward the erection of a new church which will cost about $125,000. Although the congregation now is without a pastor it has started the campaign to raise the necessary money. Dr. Wood had just completed an $80,000 church in Rochester before coming to Appleton and it was his experience in that work which prompted the congregation to extend the call to him.

The congregation is well organized in all of its departments. Its Sunday school has an enrollment of between five and six hundred.

England's crop of apples this season is said to be the poorest known for years.

THE PROHIBITION FARCE

We think that majority of the American people which voted prohibition is still of the same opinion. Many of them, however, are only passively interested. They favor prohibition in principle but they exert no influence or activity in its support.

The minority, on the other hand, reacts to prohibition in an entirely different manner. What it lacks in numbers it makes up in aggressive determination to "beat" the law and have its drink when and where it pleases. This minority is at work all the time, day and night, in resourceful schemes to water the arid spots and keep them from drying up. Thus far it has succeeded beyond expectations.

There never has been a day or hour since prohibition went into effect when booze was not easily obtainable in any city in the country. Even the country districts have not been without their facilities for supplying it. The prescription law is not to be blamed entirely for the continued wetness. There is and has been right along an abundance of whisky and other drinks on sale commercially, and the traffic has been carried on more or less openly.

To be sure many engaged in the booze business have come to grief, but the records of detection and conviction, imposing as they may be, are as nothing in comparison with the traffic that has either escaped or been accorded protection. We think it will be conceded that the country has profited greatly by wiping out the saloon. No one wants to see the American saloon revived, and it never will be. This institution, which in reality is responsible for the revolution that resulted in the Nineteenth amendment, is gone forever and there are few if any mourners.

But that and absolute prohibition are two different matters. We have to face facts as they are, and the most significant of these up to date are that public officials do not or cannot enforce prohibition and public opinion does not seem to care enough about the matter to compel them to. These facts undoubtedly are responsible for the breaking down and curtailment of enforcing agencies, as well as for the shocking depravity brought to light in official places. To sum it up, we have to concede that thus far enforcement has been a failure. When any person can get a drink day or night at a reasonable price, when wholesale graft exists among government officials and when the enforcing machinery is reduced to a ridiculous basis, the only conclusion is that prohibition is a farce and has done more to put law into disrepute than almost any legal enactment in our history. We should either have prohibition as the constitutional amendment contemplates, or we should have it in such modified form as will be obeyed and enforced.

FORESTS, WOOD AND SPORTSMEN

Wisconsin has long prided herself on her fine timber. For years her lumber industries have afforded her one of her two chief sources of wealth. Woodusing industries supported by her timber have brought millions upon millions annually to this state. Her furniture, pulp and paper, vehicle and other woodusing industries have given employment to thousands upon thousands of men. Timber, more than any other resource, is vital to Wisconsin's industrial prestige. But—

Wisconsin's virgin supply of timber is fast being depleted. Every year sees more lumbering industries and more woodusing factories moving from the state because of a lack of timber. It is of vital importance that we utilize every stick we now have if we are to hold in the state the industrial millions tied up in woodusing industries.

Care with fire is a little thing in which every man can help. For emphasizing the seriousness of fire losses in the forests,

President Harding has proclaimed this week (May 22-28) "Forest Protection Week." Will Wisconsin's people realize that fire may ruin the industrial prosperity of the state? Will they realize what a tiny match, a cigarette stub, or a campfire may unwittingly start?

Do not pass that little smudge for it may mean the stamping out of several factory smoke stacks. Mr. Hunter, Mr. Smoker, Mr. Camper, Mr. Farmer, please remember that your carelessness may dig at the industrial heart of the state. Every year brings its toll of black, charred ruins. Make this year an exception. "Be careful with fire!"

Forests and game are intimately related. Forest fires destroy the forest cover and whether this be in the form of mature timber or young trees commonly known as "brush," the wild creatures lose their greatest asset. Not only is their direct protection destroyed, but the succulent leaves, buds, inner bark and berries, the food for deer, beaver, rabbits and other wild animals, and many birds, is destroyed. That the forest cover is essential to the welfare of the deer is amply proven by the well known annual movement of these animals from the cutover lands to the dense thickets or the heavy timber with the approach of the cold season.

Forest protection should be strongly advocated and practiced by sportsmen. When in the woods, on the marsh or stream the sportsman should use great care to prevent fires starting. That is the secret of giving protection to the forest—the prevention of the fire—keep all fires from starting. The sportsman will profit directly by his care in this respect in better hunting and fishing. Very few would care for the trout season unshaded by protecting trees or shrubs, nor would the trout thrive under such circumstances. The hunter seeks the woods for his sport. Every man or woman who loves the rod and gun should be a staunch protector of the forest.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL FOR WOMEN

The women of Wisconsin are making a vigorous fight to secure passage by the legislature of a woman's rights bill now pending before that body. The bill is designed to remove existing discriminations against women and to give them equal rights before the law. It provides:

Women shall have the same rights and privileges under the law as men in the exercise of suffrage, freedom of contract, choice of residence, jury service, holding office, holding and conveying property, care and custody of children and in all other respects. The various courts, executive and administrative officers shall construe the statutes where the masculine gender is used to include the feminine gender unless such construction will deny to females the special protection and privileges which they now enjoy for the general welfare. The courts, executive and administrative officers shall make all necessary rules and provisions to carry out the intent and purpose of this statute.

The bill was introduced by the senate judiciary committee only last week, and a hearing on it is being held today. Practically every woman's organization in Wisconsin is behind the measure and they are determined to get a record vote in both the house and senate. If the bill fails of passage there is no doubt that it will figure prominently in the next elections, and that those who vote or work against it will be special objects of opposition by women, throughout the state.

Of course, as a matter of fact, the bill should be passed. No reasons can be presented against it which will stand analysis. There is nothing in the proposal to which every woman is not entitled morally and as an inherent right. Now that she has the ballot the inconsistency and incongruity of limiting her civil rights are apparent. All such limitations should be removed and at once. They are not in harmony with the spirit of the times. Much less are they in harmony with justice and righteousness.

A MOTHER

By Alfred Arnold

She is your own; a gift, somehow;
You see no reasons why.
There is a softness on her brow
And a warmth in her deep eyes
Which have a perfect power to bless
And fill your heart with thankfulness.

She holds might in her soft speech,
A fire in her deep smile,
That down into your soul can reach
And make it tremble, while
You feel the wealth of all Earth's lands
Is less than are her heart, her hands.

She does not bargain for return;
She claims not for pay—
You only know you could not earn,
Though you should live for aye,
The tenderness she gladly gives,
The flawless love in which she lives.

HARD, SOFT AND MEDIUM CORNS

The skin is constantly renewed by the multiplication of cells in its deeper layer and the shedding of cells on the surface—the new cells pushing the older ones off. If pressure is exerted against a given spot on the skin, the old, dried out cells are prevented from escaping ahead of the new, young ones and crowded back in a compact mass. The cells pile up and spread out under the point of pressure, producing a sort of miniature epithelial volcano top-side down. That is a corn.

If the pressure is made by the shoe, it is a hard corn. If the pressure is made by an adjoining toe, it is a soft corn. The only difference is that the soft corn is kept moist.

If the pressure is not constant, as on the soles in walking, a callous is produced.

Short shoes with narrow toes cause most of the corns in our best families.

The human foot is a lot wider than any fashionable shoe can accommodate. Measure your feet with your weight on the foot and see how much narrower your shoes are.

People confined to bed for a period of many weeks always get rid of their corns.

Remove the pressure from the corn if you hope to cure the corn. A felt ring may do this, but a shoe large enough for the foot is essential.

To remove a corn, first soften it by soaking the foot in very hot water for twenty minutes, then drying, and applying five grains of salicylic acid dissolved in half an ounce of flexible collodion, painted on the corn only. This softens the corn so that it may be picked off. If necessary, repeat the treatment daily—no harm in a hot foot bath every night—until the last vestige of the corn is removed. Then all you have to do is avoid pressure on the spot to prevent recurrence.

Broad-toed shoes are essential for the cure of soft corns.

Never cut a corn or a callous without first washing your hands thoroughly, boiling or thoroughly washing the razor with hot soapy water and alcohol, and painting the skin over and all about the sore to be carved with tincture of iodine.

Soft corns may be treated the same as hard corns, but the toes should be kept separated by small pieces of sterile gauze or absorbent cotton, changed once or twice a day to prevent moisture.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A Dangerous Wedding

I am engaged to marry a man who I think has tuberculosis. Can the disease be contracted through marriage? (V. A.)

ANSWER—You would be almost certain to become infected if you were to marry a man with tuberculosis. Tuberculosis is not easily contracted, but prolonged, intimate personal contact is the way you catch it.

Brain Gems

Will you kindly give me a recipe for the brain gems you have recommended for constipation? (Mrs. M. P.)

ANSWER—One egg, well thrashed; pinch of salt; butter size of walnut, melted; one cup sweet milk; one teaspoonful baking powder; one cup wheat flour; one cup wheat bran; bake in gem tins.

Eminent Physicians Take Notice

I wish you would give a plain talk on "acute indigestion" which so frequently proves fatal, especially to prominent men. (J. H.)

ANSWER—Acute indigestion never causes death. That idea is fostered by two things: First, the abuse of the term "indigestion" through ignorance and incompetence, in lieu of an actual diagnosis of conditions such as angina pectoris, uremia, gall-stones, pancreatitis, aneurism and other diseases which are likely to cause severe pain in stomach region; and second, because it is a handy term for a physician to use for appeasing the curiosity of the public about a patient's personal ailments.

A matter of fact anything more than temporary and trifling discomfort may be pretty certainly ascribed to some other cause than "indigestion."

BETTER PATENT YOUR NAME

If the shade of Grover Cleveland could be interviewed, what would he say of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll who has dishonored the good name that was given him?

He would probably ask: "Why didn't they pick on John Jacob Astor or Benedict Arnold when they were naming that boy?"

Great men have no protection against infringement on their names by the unworthy. We read of a George Washington Somebody-or-other who is arrested for beating his wife. And occasionally one hears of a boy named after William McKinley doing something he shouldn't.

The William Taft and the Theodore Roosevelt are still children, as are the Woodrow Wilsons. And we must wait till 1940, at least, until we hear anything good or bad from the Warren G. Hardings of whom there is no numerical tribe.

The boys who were named after Ulysses S. Grant are middle-aged men by now and they must be law-abiding, quiet citizens, for they seldom get their names in the papers.

Still, if Grover Cleveland Bergdoll has sullied a great and good name, the same name has been honored by none other than Grover Cleveland Alexander, who was a good soldier, and is a great pitcher.

Parents who confer upon their children a great man's name are under obligations to see to it that their children live up to that name.

WHAT YOU SHOULD EAT

Spain's decadence is shown by the fact that the staple food there is beans, says a writer in the Spanish La Vanguardia.

Beans are easy to cook. All the cook has to do is to put 'em in a pot of water, and let 'em boil.

Mental laziness is revealed in a cook who boils beans day after day, avoiding the exertion required to figure out a more varied fare. Those who are content to eat beans day after day reveal a similar mental sloth. At any rate, that is the opinion of this observer in bean-fed Spain.

Some men everywhere order the same luncheon, day after day. Does that indicate a tendency to lapse into a rut?

Yes, perhaps. If the unvaried fare is just a habit. No, if it is the result of experiments which demonstrate that a certain combination is best suited to the individual's taste and requirement.

Whistler Returns

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C. — Among the employees of the Coast and Geodetic Survey here in the year 1864 was an irascible, impudent, handsome young man named Whistler.

He had been a cadet at West Point and had been discharged for his inability to learn chemistry.

In an oral examination he told the professor that silicon was a gas. That was the end of his military career.

As he said later in his work, "Foe of all great Americans in the fine arts, is the best known because of the picturesque and sensational qualities of his life."

Whistler does not seem to have shared Poe's taste for red liquor and sad love affairs, but he was a born fighter. All his life he fought with his tongue, his pen, in the courts, and with his fists. His fighting is a mystery. His art was supremely serene and restrained, but his personality was aggressive, lion and explosive. He came on his father's side of a military family, and the love of battle for its own sake may have been in his blood. Sometimes his fighting suggests this. He seemed to need it as a stimulus. When a man died with whom he had long wrangled, Whistler lamented him:

Missed His Enemies
"Tommy's dead," he mourned. "I'm lonesome. They are all dying. I have hardly a warm personal enemy left."

In all of his battles verbal and otherwise, Whistler seems to have come off well. Stott, a fellow artist much larger than himself, insulted him in a London club. Both of them published their versions of the encounter in the newspapers. Stott's version was evasive, but Whistler's was highly specific.

"The incident closed," he wrote, "by a kick administered on a part of Mr. Stott's body that was finally turned toward me, and that I leave him to specify."

Much of his sarcasm was undoubtedly a defense against bores and presumptuous persons. Thus a lady who had just returned from a trip on the Thames, assured Whistler that the scenery was "a perfect series of Whistlers."

"Yes, I dare say," the artist replied. "Nature is creeping up."

Oscar Wilde he long and gleefully pursued in the public prints. When Wilde invited Whistler to his wedding, the artist sent a telegram:

"Fear I may not be able to reach you in time for the ceremony. Don't wait."

Wilde was always repeating Whistler's clever remarks at his own. One day, referring to some epigram of Whistler's, Wilde said:

"How I wish that I had said that!"
"You will, Oscar," Whistler assured him.

The whole story of his many battles is set forth in that remarkable book, made from his letters, and sayings and known as "The Gentle Art of Making Enemies." This book reveals a strange and formidable personality.

It pictures a man of the keenest wit and intelligence, cool, self-contained, impudent, contemptuous, who went out of his way to insult men and who never apologized. This impression is tempered, it is true, by his known devotion to a few friends, and his gentleness with women. But the essential man, the artist, was evidently a kernel of which his social personality was the all-encompassing husk.

The real man, serene and harmonious, was in his pictures. His favorite subject was night and the charm which it held for him he beautifully expressed in his famous 10 o'clock lecture:

"...the evening mist clothes the riverside with poetry, as with a veil, and the poor buildings lose themselves in the dim sky, and the tall chimneys become campanili, and the warehouses are palaces in the night, and the whole city hangs in the heavens, and fairyland is before us."

THE QUESTION BOX

The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, or undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Q. Has the United States Army a regulation "dead march"? J. B.

A. The Cemeterial Division of the War Department says there is no official funeral march. When the relatives do not make a request for certain musical selections at a soldier's funeral, various suitable ones are chosen, the only regulation being that taps be sounded.

Q. How many birds can a mockingbird imitate? S. S. E.

A. It depends upon the habitat of the bird and its own inclination. The nasal song of the mockingbird is beautiful and some of the species seldom attempt any mimicry, while others constantly imitate the sounds they hear. An observer recently recorded the imitating of 19 other bird songs by one mockingbird.

Q. What is Japanese population of Hawaii? H. F. H.

A. According to a report of the Census Bureau (November 16, 1920) the Japanese residents in Hawaii number 109,269, or 42.7 per cent of the population, which is 253,713. This was an increase of 37.1 per cent from 1910 to 1920.

Q. Where is the largest state building? H. J. K.

A. The State Capitol of Texas is the largest building of its kind in the United States.

Q. How may silk ribbon be waterproofed, in order that it may retain its original softness? E. E. G.

A. The Bureau of Standards says it is impossible to waterproof silk ribbon and yet have it remain soft and pliable for the reason that anything that would make it waterproof fills up all the spaces between the fibers of the silk.

Q. Didn't the game of Poker originate in the United States? G. J. W.

A. Poker is known as an American game, but it is undoubtedly an adaptation of the Persian game "as nas." It seems that this game came to the United States by way of New Orleans. It was in some ways similar to a game already in vogue there which probable that his fame in his native land will grow. Certainly all that he needs is a press agent, for he had the kind of personality that lends itself to popular legend. This is really more important to a man's fame than his work. Poe, of all great Americans in the fine arts, is the best known because of the picturesque and sensational qualities of his life.

THE BOOK OF MARTHA

"Among Those Present"

"We ain't got a thing agin you, sheriff!"

"You're all right!"

"We'll jes' make an afternoon call on one of your boarders! Keep out of sight a little while, sheriff!"

The door of the jail went down, the crowd surged forward and carried the speaker away.

So far in the performance there had been little that was intelligible to Martha and to me. When men emerged from the jail basement, the service end of the institution, with buckets in their hands, and robbed the autos of their gasoline, we were still more confused. One of them, as he passed us, said with a wink:

"Keep your gas, ladies! And make a quick getaway—that's my advice!"

Then he went back to the jail basement with his bucket of gas.

I looked at Martha and dared not put my head into words. Martha carefully refrained from looking my way.

At that instant, the door of my car was pulled open and without "by your leave" or "if you please" a bundle of ink-smelling newspapers was set down upon my feet.

"Let me hide 'em here!" was the command, not the request, of a small newsboy. Seeing that I hesitated he vouchsafed an explanation: "If you don't hide 'em, ma'am, I'll lose 'em!"

I pulled my toes from under the weight of the papers, glancing down as I did so and reading at a glance one-half of each black head, as it showed on the folded page:

"Vice Crusade—"

Big Raid Nets—"

Women Jailed—"

The end of each line was hidden, but I had read enough to explain to me why I had seen so many girls in the prison when I visited Ann. I hadn't looked into a single one of the cells, when I followed the prison guard along the corridors, but from the corner of my eye, I had caught the critical glances of those girls. They were the women who had been trapped by the vice crusaders, the unfortunate who could not get bail!

Such was the company Ann Lortimer had forced herself into! And she would consider it good luck, I fancied, a rare opportunity to see life without danger to herself!

"Get in!" Martha threw a rug over the newspapers and clutched the small boy's shoulder. "Sit on that pile!"

The little fellow jumped into his place with a whoop of joy. From his new point of vantage he could catch the show and not miss a detail!

"Can you tell us how it started?"

Martha put the question to the boy.

About Your Ice Box

The ice chamber of your ice box was not meant for foods. Vegetables put right on the ice prevent free circulation of cold air and rob the other parts of the refrigerator of adequate refrigeration.

The section directly under the ice chamber is the coldest part of the ice box. Cold air "settles," forcing warm air up. Milk and butter and any foods that need to be kept specially cool should be stored in this part of the refrigerator.

The Pile of Rags

"That must be Mr. Camel snoring," said Nancy looking around under the trees for a sign of him.

"Surest thing, you know," answered Flippety-Flap peering around in the grass and low bushes of the Green Oasis. Nick ran over to the edge of a little pool of water, thinking he might find Mr. Camel there. For although a desert is dry and hot and sandy, you must know that an oasis in the middle of a desert is the nicest kind of a place. Cool and green, with plenty of water to drink.

But Caliph Camel was nowhere to be seen, although the snoring seemed near.

Out in the hot sun it was really almost hot enough to fry an egg, if one had an egg and a frying pan, and in the midst of the hot sand was a heap of something that looked, as though some poor beggar had cast away a lot of his old rags. Rags all frayed, and worn, and moth-eaten, and dirty, and brown as the desert sands. Oh, terribly old rags!

"Let's look behind that," said Nancy pointing. So they all went. But no Caliph Camel could they see anywhere.

"N'th—something under the old rags went," "Sn-z-z-z-z! Sn-r-r-r! Sn-z-z-z!" with the worst old rumbling.

"Begorra!" said Flippety-Flap, poking it with his toe, "so that's where he is! Under all these old things out in this red-hot sun! Hey, there!" he called. "Aren't you mixed up, old boy? This isn't the North pole. There isn't any ice nearer than the sultan's refrigerator. (This is the Great Brown Desert, and if you keep yourself so hot you'll get the pip.)"

"What's the pip?" demanded the pile of old rags, staggering onto its feet.

"Why it's Mr. Camel himself!" cried Nick.

Boy Scouts---Campers! "Pup" Tents and Blankets

The trout streams and the tall woods are calling on these warm days and their appeal will grow stronger as the season advances. For Boy Scouts and older folks who are planning woodsy nights in the open during vacation days, we offer two of the very things they are going to need at special pricings—

Regulation Army "Pup" Tents

You fellows know what they are—light shelters that answer every need of the most extended camping trip, yet small and compact enough to be an easily managed and a light weight load on the way.

These "pup" tents were bought from the government and are now placed on sale at a very low price. They are the regulation size and quality required by the army and will stand the hardest wear.

All are khaki color $2.48

Regulation Army Wool Blankets

Of course there will be cool nights that make a good blanket an absolute necessity. And besides, as long as a blanket is to be bought, it's mighty good policy to get one that can be expected to last for more than one rough trip.

Army blankets are all pure wool, olive drab color, and are made as stonily as a blanket can possibly be constructed. These are good size and full weight and an extra value at the price $4.95

NEW LONDON WOMEN AT DISTRICT MEET

Women's Clubs Meet at Clintonville—Shower for Bride-to-Be.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

New London—Mock wedding invitations summoned the guests to appear at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Irma Balsey in the kindergarten room of the McKinley school Thursday evening, May 19. A mock wedding, with all characters in appropriate costumes, was the chief feature of the evening's entertainment. Miss Emma Neumann acted as bridesmaid, while Miss Looby and Miss Stubenvoll were bestmen. PARK SCHOOL WINS ANNUAL FIELD MEET

Keen Interest Is Shown in Athletic Contests in Graded Schools.

Kaukauna—The final official scores of the Park-Nicolet school field meet held last week have been compiled, showing that Park school won the meet by 35 points. The school will be presented with a silver loving cup offered by J. N. Scheer. Individual high score winners were Dorothy Goldin of Nicolet school, who made 25 points out of a possible 35, and Claude Miller of Park school, who scored 30 points. The two will be awarded cups offered by Theodore Hegeman.

Interest in the meet ran high. It was scheduled to be held Friday, May 13, but the rain and cold prevented a meet out of doors. Rather than postpone the event, it was decided to hold it in the auditorium, but that proved so unsatisfactory that only some of the events were held.

Nicolet school girls scored 259 1-2 points and their opponents made 205 11-12 points. The Nicolet boys made only 188 1-2 points while Park school boys scored 277 1-2. Special mention was given to Gale Foxgrover, Dorothy Goldin, Donald Haneman, Deane Wolf, Genevieve Frank, Arnold Risau, William West, Claude Miller, Sylvester Tin and Sam Pomeroy, who scored 20 or more points out of a possible 35.

The Schwartzkopf family spent Saturday and Sunday at Stevens Point. Miss Valma Ritz has returned to her home in this city from Theda Clark hospital at Neenah where she was operated on for appendicitis about two weeks ago.

SENIORS READY FOR CLASS PLAY

High School Students Complete Rehearsals for Annual Effort.

Kaukauna—Everything is set for the presentation of the high school senior class play Thursday evening in the auditorium. The members of the cast have been rehearsing day and night for several weeks and they have been admirably adapted to their parts through the coaching of Miss Edna Mae Harris.

Miss Grace Brenzel makes a very good "Aunt Mary," the rich old spinster about whom the play revolves. Sylvester Coffey takes the part of "Jack," Aunt Mary's wild young nephew, who gets into so much trouble that his aunt disinherits him. Then there are several characters of Aunt Mary's type and several "city folks" to contrast strikingly with their country cousins.

A children's matinee will be given after school Wednesday afternoon.

Training School Banquet
The annual junior-senior reception and farewell party of training school students will be held Tuesday evening in the school. Dancing will be the chief entertainment. The gymnasium is to be beautifully decorated in yellow and white. Music will be furnished by the Fox orchestra.

Young Girls Need Care

FROM the age of twelve a girl needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time.

If she complains of headaches, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter make life easier for her.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for such conditions. It can be taken in safety by any woman, young or old.

Read How These Mothers Helped Their Daughters

Guttenberg, N. J.—"My daughter was all run down and had fainting spells often, had a bad complexion, and suffered at her monthly periods. Her grandmother had been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the Change of Life, and got a bottle of it for her. She began to improve with the first bottle and took five in all and was entirely restored to health. For a time she had not been able to attend school, but she does now. She recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to her friends and I give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. CATHERINE MCGLOVE, 304 24th St., Guttenberg, N. J.

Roxbury, Mass.—"My daughter is a schoolgirl and she suffered very much with irregular periods, painful cramps and dizzy headaches. She was sometimes as long as three months between her periods and when they came she was not able to do her school home lessons because she could not even sit up. A copy of one of your little books was left in my letter-box and she began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for her troubles. She is now in good health, is regular and can help me with the housework when not in school."—Mrs. VICTORIA G. SPENCER, 74 Bragdon St., Roxbury, Mass.

WOMAN IS FINED $100 FOR SELLING 4 PINTS OF BOOZE

Arrest of Mrs. John Laeyendecker Follows Finding of Drunken Young Lady.

Charged with selling four pints of moonshine whiskey to two young men Saturday night, Mrs. John Laeyendecker, 754 Garfield st., was arrested Monday afternoon and was fined $100 and costs when arraigned before Judge A. M. Spencer.

Louisiana Red Devils Novelty Dance Orchestra ARMORY Tuesday, May 24

Sale of the liquor was revealed after a young woman was taken to her home late Saturday night in a semi-paralyzed condition from drinking moonshine. She had spent the evening with the purchasers. It is said that after she became thus affected by the liquor she was dropped at her doorstep and abandoned.

A search for her companions followed. It is believed they also were intoxicated, but had become sufficiently sober when found by the police to avoid arrest. One of them admitted that he had purchased the liquor from Mrs. Laeyendecker. A pint bottle nearly full of the moonshine was produced as evidence.

Mrs. Laeyendecker denied that she had made the booze herself, saying that it had been purchased in Racine.

STEADY DEMAND FOR NEW DICTIONARY

"From the way the people are crowding in here to get these dictionaries, I venture to predict this town is destined before long to become the intellectual center of the universe." Thus spoke a young woman employed at one of the counters from which the New Universities Dictionary is being distributed.

She had no time for further comment, as a number of persons were waiting to present their coupons and secure a copy of the new dictionary. The demand for the book has been phenomenal, large numbers having been distributed within the past week, and the publishers have been called upon repeatedly to replenish the fast vanishing supply. The distribution has been heavy, indicating that this paper is giving its readers at a nominal cost an opportunity to satisfy a long-felt want.

Scouts Help Autoist Out Of Trouble

Neenah Lads Replace Punctured Tire But Refuse Even an Ice Cream Treat

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kiss had opportunity Sunday to appreciate what the "do a good turn daily" motto of boy scouts really means. They were out-joining between Appleton and High Cliff during the afternoon. A tire blew out, and in attempting to put on the spare tire, found that a new rim just purchased was too large. Mr. Kiss was without the necessary tools to remove the tire from the detachable rim.

At this juncture an automobile truck load of 25 boy scouts from Neenah drove up, bound for home from an outing at High Cliff. The scouts stopped their truck alighted and offered to help. Tools were obtained from the truck, the tires were changed by the boys and the Kiss automobile was ready for travel again.

Mr. Kiss desired to pay the scouts for their assistance, but the boys refused saying, "It's all in the game." They refused even an ice cream treat. "We helped out an American man the same way yesterday," one of them said.

HOLSTEIN SALE TO BE NOTABLE EVENT

Appleton will see one of the largest purebred cattle sales in the city's history when the auction of the Outagamie County Holstein-Friesian Breeders association takes place Friday morning at the Outagamie Equit-Exchange grounds. More than 50 fine animals will pass into the hands of new owners.

Members of the sales committee are buying themselves with arrangements. The large pavilion tent erected for the Guernsey sale will be used. The animals will be stabled in the cabbage warehouse of the exchange until the hour of the sale. Most of the purebreds will be brought to the city Wednesday and Thursday so that the tests may be made.

Leading breeders believe Outagamie-co. will be noted as one of the important Holstein centers of Wisconsin after this sale. Such care was exercised in selection of animals that important buyers are sure to be attracted here when in search of good dairy cows.

Home farmers who have not yet begun to raise purebreds, or others who have only one or two animals are being specially urged by the promoters to attend the sale and make purchases with which to improve their herds.

20 AT WALTHER LEAGUE MEETING AT PLYMOUTH

About twenty Appleton young people representing St. Paul and Mount Olive churches were at Plymouth Sunday to attend the southern district convention of the Walther league. Church services were held in the morning, and the afternoon and evening were devoted to business meetings and addresses.

Officers were elected, a constitution adopted and arrangements completed for a large attendance at the international convention of the Walther league in Milwaukee July 17 to 21. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Mr. Buenger, Kenosha, and F. A. Klein, Fort Wayne, Ind., chairman of the international executive committee of the league.

Appleton delegates made a formal request to entertain the next convention, but no definite decision was reached.

MANY PLANTS HERE ON SHORT SCHEDULE

Factories in Northeastern Section of City Hard Hit by Depression.

Manufacturing plants in the northeast section of the city which are always busy when normal conditions prevail are feeling the effects of the present business depression and are operating on short hour schedules. The number of employees has been temporarily cut down and on some days those on duty are confined mostly to the office force and heads of departments.

Manufacturers are not looking for an immediate change in the market.

Last spring they were of the opinion the demand for their products would return again in a few weeks, but now they are satisfied the readjustment of business will be a long drawn out affair that in all probability will cover the greater part of the year.

Monday was an unusually quiet day and scarcely a wheel was turning in any of the plants. The manufacturers are optimistic, however, and are looking forward to the time when they will again be loaded down with orders. All were satisfied the slump had to come and they claim the sooner prices get stabilized the better it will be for the country.

COMMENTS POST FOR FUNERAL PLAN

Lieut. Col. Beveridge Describes Plan for National Burial of Unknown Dead.

Lieut. Col. Byron Beveridge, formerly of Appleton, has written a letter to Charles C. Baker, commander of Oney, Johnston post of the American Legion, from Washington, D. C., congratulating the former service men of Appleton on their plans for the burial of the unknown dead.

Enclosed with the colonel's letter is a postcard picture of Arlington Memorial amphitheater, Arlington, Va., and a clipping from the New York Times, describing the preparations made for burial of the unknown dead there. The amphitheater was dedicated on Armistice day, last November, and is to be the scene of the national burial service next November 11. The structure was erected at a cost of $750,000 and can seat 50,000 people.

Describing the funeral preparations, the clipping says: "Little attention has as yet been given to the announcement that Marshall Foch is intending to come to the United States with the body of our unknown soldier, but the occasion is likely to prove the most moving and dramatic of this period following the war. Gen. Pershing will be on the ship; as commander of our forces in France he is a natural guardian of this symbol of the nation's dead. But above him in supreme command was the soldier who must stand in history with the greatest of all captains, and he is coming too."

S. D. Balliet was one of the speakers at the meeting at St. Mary church at Kaukauna Monday night which concerned the $1,000,000 campaign which Catholics of the Green Bay diocese are about to open.

American Legion Will Observe Poppy Day Here

Oney Johnston Post Begins Preparations for Excursion During Summer.

Next Saturday will be poppy day in Appleton. Everybody will be tagged with a red poppy to be worn Memorial day in memory of the World war heroes buried in Flanders fields. The idea has been adopted in all parts of the United States and was adopted by the Oney Johnston post of the American Legion at a meeting of the executive committee Monday evening in the French room of the Sherman house.

Several thousand poppies will be purchased and distributed by taggers. There will be enough for almost everybody in Appleton and the funds derived from the sale will be placed in the legion treasury for future undertakings.

The entertainment committee was authorized to engage a steamer and to arrange a legion excursion to some popular park on Lake Winnebago during the summer. The location is left to the committee but it is probable that Menominee Park, Oshkosh, will be chosen, as the officers seemed to favor this spot.

With the state convention of the American Legion scheduled at Eau Claire, the executive committee will recommend to the post at its meeting in June that six delegates and six alternates be sent, with part of their expenses paid. Oney Johnston post is one of the largest in the state, it was pointed out and is expected to make a big showing. An effort will be made to induce a large number of members to accompany the delegates.

A report of the committee on selection of a soldier lot in Riverside and St. Joseph cemeteries was heard and satisfactory progress reported. The post hopes to have the grounds selected by Memorial day. L. Hugo Keller was elected to assist Frank H. Bel in arranging for the public funeral for the unknown dead, which is to be observed with a half holiday as soon as a body arrives from France to be buried in Appleton.

Purchase of a bulletin board was authorized to be placed in a downtown location where members of the post and citizens may inform themselves of legion activities.

Add May "King" To Royalty At Local College

The almost sepulchral quietude of Appleton streets in the wee hours of the morning was the scene of an unusual frolic Saturday when Lawrence students held one of those famous "night shirt parades." They gathered from Brokaw, and from frat houses until the motley array would never have been recognized for what they were. The occasion for the momentous gathering was the crowning the May "King."

Had not the male side of Lawrence been neglected when the May Queen was crowned? Not even one man was permitted to act as a guard of honor. Therefore this gathering at the bewitching hour Hollis Martin was of the Transportation Association of Wisconsin, C. R. Collins, general manager, National Association of Commercial Haulers, and John H. Schlitz, Milwaukee, central vice president of the national body.

Several important bills dealing with the trucking industry were discussed. It was said that some portions of the bill were good and should be passed, but others would be found their way into them, presumably through influence of the railroads. These portions were objected to by the draymen.

Mr. Collins quoted from President Harding's inaugural speech and also read two letters from the president voicing his support to transportation by truck. It also was pointed out that much propaganda has been circulated concerning the free use of highways by trucks, and that this appeared in all parts of the country at about the same time, indicating that it was systematically planned. Speakers said trucks were entitled to use the highways, because they hauled the public's goods.

WHY YOU NEED IRON

Takekeyoustrongand"brainy" and put the power into your blood to overcome disease germs

PRACTICAL ADVICE ON HOW TO DEVELOPE GREAT ENERGY AND ENDURANCE

The food you eat contains carbon. When your food is digested it is absorbed from the intestines into the blood. When the carbon in your food comes in contact with the oxygen carried by the iron in your blood, the carbon and oxygen unite and by so doing they give off tremendous energy, thereby giving you great force, strength and endurance. With iron your blood carries no oxygen and without oxygen there is nothing to unite with the carbon in your food, so that what you eat does you no good—you do not get any strength from it—it is like putting coal into a stove without a fire. You cannot get any heat unless the coal unites with the fire.

The strongest weapon with which to prevent and overcome colds, pneumonia, kidney trouble, rheumatism, nervous prostration, in fact almost any disease or disease germs is plenty of good rich, pure blood, strength, energy and endurance and the greatest energy carrier in the body is organic iron, not metallic iron which people usually take, but organic iron like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and like the iron contained in what is known as organic Nuxated Iron, which may be had from almost any druggist.

If you have been taking metallic iron without benefit such is no proof that organic Nuxated Iron will not help you. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength, energy and endurance of weak, nervous, run down folks in two weeks time. It is such an extremely valuable product that even the Pope at Rome wrote especially of its merits in a communication to the Pharmacopoeia Normalis. It has been used and highly recommended by former United States Senators, Members of Congress, Judges of U. S. Courts, many physicians and prominent men. Over 4,000,000 people are now using it annually. Satisfactory results are guaranteed or the manufacturers will refund your money. Sold by all druggists in tablet form only.

ALLIES WANT U. S. AT MANDATE MEET

Justified in view of the postponement already made and the invitation extended.

At the same time it is realized that further postponement is impossible for too many of their interests are involved to justify it, including the interests of the natives of the various territories who desire the substitution of the mandate system for the present irresponsible military administration. Consequently the "A" mandates for Mesopotamia and Syria and the "B" mandates for Central Africa are due to be discussed at Geneva beginning June 27. Against the former mandate the American government has entered a general protest on the ground of the oil interests involved while against the latter, it is not known that America has any specific objection.

Undoubtedly the American objections as raised in the various notes will be given consideration, but it is doubtful whether they will be as sympathetically discussed as they would be were America represented at the meeting and able to make her voice felt. It is frankly wondered over here why America would hesitate to take part in the council meeting. Such participation would not, it is pointed out, commit America finally in any sense. It would merely be the natural policy of a self-reliant nation which does not fear to take part in any discussions, wherever they may be, where its own interests are affected. Indeed, America would be in a position far more of opposing the league on the League's own ground than it would be of working with it.

Whether the question of Yap will come up at its next meeting is uncertain. The league takes the point of view that it has nothing to do with the allocation of the island to Japan as the allocation of all former German colonies has been a function of the supreme council and allied powers to whom possession was given by the treaty. The league's only function has been to approve the terms of the mandates after the allocation had been made, but it cannot escape notice that if America had been a member of the League council it could by its single voice have blocked approval of the mandates for Yap and other former German islands and thus have kept the allocation in a state of negotiation which would have made it possible to avoid nearly all the difficulty that since has been arising.

However, these various questions may be decided, it must be obvious that America's material interests form a part of the general questions of the world. The new administration had the wisdom to recognize this important fact almost at the outset of its career and it is to be hoped that it will pursue American problems wherever they may happen to arise.

BRITISH POLICE BLAMED FOR TERROR

Former Leader of Black and Tans Accuses Them of Murder and Looting.

By United Press Leased Wire London—General Crosier, former commander of the Black and Tan police in Ireland, in an article printed Tuesday by the Daily News, charged that crown forces in Ireland were guilty of murder, arson, looting and terrorism.

Crosier resigned from his command when his sentences for black and tan looting were overruled by higher authorities. Crosier said that during the months he was in Ireland, the black and tans continually murdered the Irish, burned the dwellings and stores and practiced other forms of terrorism.

The general also charged that high officials in Dublin castle had "framed" evidence against Irish prisoners and that they had hushed up three cases of murder which he mentioned specifically. Two of these were prisoners whose deaths were later reported as occurring when they attempted to escape, Crosier said.

The general declared the black and tans had no provocation for the Croke Park "massacre" last November.

The Daily News printed the general's charges with a statement that a public and parliamentary inquiry is imperative.

CHANGES IN STYLE COST MILLIONS TO AMERICA

By United Press Leased Wire Chicago—A new style is created every minute and the huge economic waste incurred is saddled upon the nation.

Every time there is a change in the color of feathers in a woman's hat, or the lapel of a coat is slightly modified, it costs the country millions of dollars.

These points were emphasized Tuesday by L. W. Wallace, Washington, executive secretary of the American engineering council. He spoke before the American society of Mechanical Engineers in session here.

PREDICT HUGE CROP FOR THE NORTHWEST

By United Press Leased Wire St. Paul—A tremendous crop is in prospect for the northwest E. G. Quarmme, president of the federal land bank of St. Paul, predicted Tuesday.

If present weather conditions prevail until June 1, crops will be two weeks ahead of normal progress, he said.

There are indications that a fair price will be paid for wheat in the fall.

Railways of the northwest should prepare at once to handle the heaviest movement of grain and other agricultural products taken out of the northwest in six years, he said.

The federal land bank is back to a normal basis and is doing a business of more than $1,000,000 a month.

Delays seem unavoidable, however. The miscalculations of leaders on speedy passage of the emergency tariff bill demonstrate this. They thought it would go through in a week. Instead, it took two and a half months. The emergency tariff is now before President Harding for signature.

FANS GET MUCH MORE ACTION IN SHORT BATTLES

Long Drawn Out Affairs of Other Days Were Slow and Cautious Fights.

BY JOHNNY KILBANE

The question often has been asked whether present day fighters of the type of Jack Dempsey or Georges Carpentier, who clash July 2 for the heavyweight championship, could stand up under the oldtime finish fights of half a hundred rounds or more.

Take the great John L. Sullivan's win over Jack Kilrain in 75 rounds back in 1889, for example, or the 61-round draw that Jim Corbett fought with Peter Jackson in 1891 at Frisco.

Either Dempsey or Georges could go that route today—but fans would be treated to an altogether different style of fighting from that they will see at Jersey. And it would prove far less interesting.

Battle With Caution
When a fighter goes into a finish fight, he battles with extreme caution. Not a surplus step is taken; not a blow is wasted. He conserves all his energy for the grueling rounds that are to come later.

In a short fight, such as that scheduled for Dempsey and Carpentier, both men waste in and fight from the time the bell rings, knowing that there will be at most only 36 minutes of actual fighting and that they need save no more than enough stamina to carry them over that comparatively short time.

Conserves Get Edge
The inclination of a boxer to save steam for the wind up of his fight is shown by the experience of eastern boxers on the Pacific coast. In and around San Francisco fights usually are scheduled for only four rounds. Eastern fighters, used to fighting 12 or 15 rounds, step into the ring and start off slowly, from force of habit.

Decided Difference
A short fight means hammer and tongs fighting; a long fight means a slow and measured study.

That's why I say that, taking into consideration even the different fighting style of Dempsey and Carpentier, the Jersey battle, from the fans' viewpoint, will be a better and livelier one than were the long-drawn-out battles of by-gone days.

Insider Says

In the boxing game there are a lot of good hitters and a lot of poor fielders.

Has Georges Carpentier entered a sanitarium or a training camp?

President Harding can put his pass to games in the Pacific Northwest League in the same pocket with his ticket to the British open golf championship.

The pitcher who is a consistent loser is like a man building castles in air—doing a lot of work and getting no results.

Maybe "kids will be kids" is Connie Mack's explanation for his crew being in the cellar.

The clinch in boxing is no relation to the squeeze play of baseball.

Skiff, the Pittsburgh catcher, ought to get a leave of absence in July to participate in the Interlake regatta.

Babe Ruth likes to keep baseballs that he slaps for home runs. Some, however, never return from the next county.

"You can't tell a player without a scorecard." Can't tell him what?

The main difference between a has-been ball player and a real prospect is a contract.

The ball star who likes to bat in an emergency might be termed a pinch-hug.

Loaded bases remind one of "Ba, Ba, Blacksheep"—three sacks full.

Georges, so they say, is going to present Jack with a dog. Is that all?

The man who bets on every race and loses consistently is literally "mugged" to death.

MARINETTE BOXING ENDS NEXT FRIDAY
Marinette—The last boxing program of the season under the auspices of Teddy Budlong, post No. 38, will be held in Marinette next Friday. Speedy Sparks, Marinette's new welterweight, and principal of 181 ring battles, will face Mike Hirsch, the veteran Chicagoan, in the ten round windup. The semi windup will see Archie Measner, the Menominee fish, lock horns with Chris Hoff, the Eau Claire high school student.

"DON'T" SPOIL HIS VACATION

WILLIE HOPPE

Vacation time is creeping up on Willie Hoppe as well as everybody else.

But unfortunately it doesn't mean as much to the world's champion ball player as it does to Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen.

Willie's hands are insured for $100,000. If they are injured so he cannot aim a cue he gets the jack.

That sounds fine, but—There is a vacation drawback in the things the insurance policy forbids him to do. It reads that he can not—

Play tennis; play golf, bowl; play catch with baseball, or pick a banjo or mandolin.

"Guess I'll have to go swimming," says Hoppe.

Watching The Scoreboard

Monday's hero—Wally Pipp.

Duke Davis passed Babe Ruth and filled the bases to get a crack at Pipp but Pipp cracked a single and the Yanks beat the Browns in the ninth, 6 to 4.

Jim Bagby held the Red Sox to four scattered hits and the Indians won, 4 to 1.

Washington bunched hits on the White Sox and won, 9 to 5.

Rav Schalk went out with a cracked finger.

Detroit beat the Athletics, 5 to 2.

Bush scored on a punt in the fifth inning. He beat out the hit, started for second and got to third when Perkins threw wildly and scored on Griff's head throw to the plate.

All National games—run.

WOMAN SLAYER'S TRIAL IS POSTPONED AGAIN

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Drys in the house took out their war on the Monday and started a legislative fight to prevent a breakdown in the prohibition enforcement organization.

The decision of the secretary of the treasury and prohibition commissioner Kramer to reduce the federal prohibition force from 1900 to 500 agents until July 1, because of insufficient appropriations caused Representative Volstead, Minnesota, to ask for a deficiency appropriation of $200,000 to reinstate these officers.

NEW CATCHER FOR BRANDT'S SQUAD

Milwaukee Man to Be on the Receiving End of Schultz's Spitters.

With the rest of the team going in good shape, Owner August Brandt of the Appleton valley league club believes he will be all set in the catcher's box next Sunday. O'Connor, it is said, has left the local club to play with Marinette and has proved his inability to hold Schultz and to keep men from stealing second. Eight men suffered the second sack Sunday and he had all kinds of trouble holding Schultz's shoots.

Unless plans go wrong Schultz's old battery partner, a Milwaukee man, will be on the receiving end next Sunday when the locals meet Kaukauna here. Schultz urged Brandt early in the season to take on this man but it was decided to keep O'Connor so long as he was going good and would play here. A sudden shift is necessary, and the Milwaukee man will be given the berth.

Weisberger's return to Menasha has weakened the team's offensive front. Fahlstrom is a good outfielder but is not as strong at the bat as the Menasha star. It is probable he will be continued in the position however because he can be used as a hurler in case of emergency.

Durran, Brandt's new third base man, showed up well Sunday, fielding well and hitting the ball hard. His two base drive was a screamer and he hit several other hard blows but fielders capped them off.

Kaukauna is coming up here primed to break up its losing streak and indications are the battle will be a real hummer.

Sport Views And News

Not so many years ago it would have been considered the height of folly to send a team of high school track stars against a college team but cause colleges with the benefit of expert training, had too much of an advantage. Marks made in recent high school track meets, however, indicate the prep students would give the collegians plenty of opposition.

Several of the marks made in the interscholastic meet here last Saturday were better than those of the Lawrence-Normal meet in Milwaukee Saturday, high school students ran up records which are as good as any held by college students in the state. It is more than possible that there are a lot of high schools in the state represented by track teams good enough to wallop almost any of the colleges.

A post season series between the pennant winners of the Fox River valley league and the title holder of the Lake Shore circuit will probably be arranged. President Hedding of the Shore wheel is strongly in favor of the plan and it is a cinch that the Valley leaguers will jump at the chance to meet the top notch team of the other state league. In case the series is staged, regulations will be drafted to prevent either of the contesting teams from loading up with imported stars.

There is more than one way around the Blue Sunday laws South Dakota has found this out. A recent decision of the state court prohibited baseball on Sunday where a gate admission is charged. This looked like a death blow for the national game but the managers discovered a way to get around the law and still rake in the shekels. They admit the spectators free of charge but soak 'em double for a grandstand ticket. So far this season has worked like a charm and it looks as if the reformers have been fooled after all.

So far this season, recruit pitchers haven't cut much of a figure in the major league races. The younger crop of hurlers have been forced to take a back seat because the seasoned veterans have been stepping along right lively. The Tigers have been making good use of Middleton and Sutherland while Piercy has shown some stuff for the Yanks. The Cleveland sandlot product, has turned in a couple of wins for Tris Speaker's Indians. None of the National league new comers has done anything starting on the mound this season.

Guilford drew a bye in the first round and his bid for honors was accepted to be of short duration when round and his bid for honors was expected to be of short duration when the draw put him against the favorite for the title.

Carpentier's Career

BY HAL COCHRAN
CHAPTER 3

On the second meeting between Carpentier and Paul Til, there was much speculation as to what would happen. The first scrap, over the 20 round route, had been a draw. This time the go was for 10 rounds. Would Carpentier speed up, in the shorter route? That's just what he did, and won the decision.

Georges was fast taking on weight and flitting with the feather division. Just previous to graduating he disposed of Pickard and Lampin, via the K. O. route and won on a foul from Young Warner. It was the second time he had darkened the lamps of Lampin.

Georges Takes Lacing
Few battles came during the featherweight days. One of the first was a swab, at the hands of Buck Shine, an English fighter. Carpentier took a good licking in 8 rounds.

Following in short order came an other defeat when he clashed with Young Snowball, another English man.

Paul Til, still a thornpotcher, then made a bid for a third match with Georges. The two fought to a draw in 13 rounds. Fighting men whom he had already clashed with, was one of the best little things Carpentier did in the early days. He was always willing to give a man another chance.

Young Warner followed Til's attempted comeback. He had lost to Georges, in their first mix, on a foul, and contended another battle would see him winner. Carpentier was willing and the two journeyed to Cambridge for a 10 round go. In the seventh frame the question of superiority was settled when Warner was knocked in to dreaming.

Wins over Percy Wilson, in 10 rounds; Geo. Gallard, in 6 rounds; Cuny, in 2 rounds; Jack Daniels in 10 rounds and Demien, a Belgian star, in 10 rounds followed. And in the

GOLF PROS START BRITISH INVASION

Regiment of American Stars Cheered by Splendid Work of Amateurs.

New York.—News "from the front" where the amateurs are on a big drive put America's second golf expeditionary force in high spirits Tuesday. This second force, the professional section of Uncle Sam's golf army, sailed Tuesday on the Celtic for England to take up the battle where the amateurs leave off.

The second party of invaders consisted of Captain Emmet French, Jim Barnes, Walter Hagen, Tommy Kerrigan, Freddie McLeod, Clarence Hackney, Wilfred Reid, George McLean, William Methorn and Charles Hoffner.

Harry Hampton, Eddie Loos, Mike Brady and Leo Diegel found at the last minute they could not go.

Without the above quartet, the "pro" regiment will not be as strong but it is a likely looking outfit and should make a creditable showing.

Jim Barnes while he decided to make the trip, may not be able to take part in the drive for the open title. He is in poor condition. Walter Hagen hasn't been doing much playing and he will need a lot of practice to get into form.

Between now and June 20, the selection committee will name another player to take the place of Harry Hampton.
